

AIMS 7TH ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL REPORT CARD (RC7)

Prince Edward Island High Schools

Several schools in Prince Edward Island miss out on a final grade due to a lack of information on the achievement of Island students at university and community college. However, in Prince Edward Island this is more an issue of the lack of transparency, as the Freedom of Information laws do not apply to the Island's publicly funded post-secondary institutions. This has allowed the University of Prince Edward Island to opt out of providing data for the report card.

As a result of this lack of information, two of the top three schools from last year's report card do not receive a final grade this year, including last year's top school, Souris Regional High School. Kensington Intermediate Senior High moves up a grade level from a 'B-' to a 'B' and into the top spot. Charlottetown Rural High School maintains its 'B' grade and second spot in the rankings. No school saw a significant change in its overall grade.

There are schools that do not receive an overall grade because information is missing for the three year rolling average used for this report. In some cases, it is to protect the privacy of students. For instance, in the case of post-secondary achievement, if we can not collect the data from at least two post-secondary institutions with results for at least five students, then the data is not included and no grade is given.

- Grades are based on a three year rolling average. If a school does not have at least two years of data for a particular measure it will not receive a grade for that measure. RC7 is based on data from the school years 2004/05, 2005/06, and 2006/07. Alternate schools are not reported and no partial data is available for them
