Data challenges and changes in the school system resulted in the exclusion of some new schools from this analysis and the inclusion of data from older schools that have now been renamed. For Anglophone New Brunswick the following schools are not ranked: New Brunswick Learning Centres, private schools and Bernice McNaughton High School. St. Malachy's Memorial High School is included but their results reflect performance pre the 2002 merger with St. Vincent's High School.

Based on feedback AIMS received from the Province of New Brunswick, the New Brunswick rankings have been split into Francophone and Anglophone systems for 2003. The comparative 2002 results reported here have been recalculated to facilitate comparison and may not necessarily match those included in last year's report card.

A transposition occurred in the earlier edition of this piece that resulted in the repetition of the PS Participation grades under the PS Achievement column. This edition reports the PS Achievement grades as they should have appeared. The transposition was purely a technical problem in the last stages of production and did not impact the overall grade or other performance measures.

For Nova Scotia the following schools are not ranked: Adult High Schools, Private Schools, First Nations Schools, schools in the Conseil Scolaire Acadien Provincial, Advocate District School, Avon View High School, Cape Breton Highlands Academy, Dalbrae Academy, Drumlin Heights Consolidated, Lockview High School, Northeast Kings Education Centre, North Nova Education Centre, Northumberland Regional High School and, Richmond Academy.
